let's unite against domestic abuse

On average, 2 women are killed by their partner or ex-partner every week in England and Wales, but domestic abuse is not always physical. Coercive control is when your partner controls you through fear, and it's now against the law.

SOME OF THE SIGNS OF ABUSIVE BEHAVIOUR:

- ∞ Criticising and putting their partner down in public.
- ∞ Being excessively jealous or possessive of their partner.
- ∞ Isolating their partner from friends and family.
- ∞ Controlling how their partner spends their time and who with.
- ∞ Telling their partner what they should wear.

Whether you're a victim of abuse, or a concerned friend or family member, visit the Women's Aid website for more info:
